WHY COLUMBIA SHIELDS?

Columbia Shields are barriers that facilities can place between workout stations to interrupt and prevent the spread of COVID-19 and other airborne viruses.

Studies have shown COVID-19 is most likely to be spread by individuals who are in close proximity through droplets of saliva in the air. The most effective method of preventing COVID-19's spread in an enclosed space, such as a gym, is through protective barriers.

Columbia Shields are easily configured to fit your gym's layout and can be sanitized with any cleaner.
